

ONES TO WATCH @ SUPER & THEONEMILANO BY CARLA MERCURIO AND ANGELA TOVAZZI

FABIO GAVAZZI @ THEONEMILANO
Alongside its Fall-Winter 2020/2021 womens wear line, Fabio Gavazzi unfurled his first menswear collection, made up of about 40 pieces.

JUÁREZ CAMACHO @ SUPER
After studying at the Marangoni Institute in Milan, the young Mexican designer created a Made in Italy collection of leather goods inspired by the craftsmanship and traditions of his country - reworked with a modern spirit.

DIEGO M @ THEONEMILANO
Winter coats took centre stage. An array dominated by Mohair, 100% Merino wool and cashmere fabrics. Fall-Winter jackets were showcased in long and short versions, enhanced with original details such as fur collars, detachable pockets, down inserts and hideaway hoods.

BE YOU - GÉRALDINE ALASIO @ SUPER
Made with 100% cashmere, Be You is made in Mongolia and is the result of the collaboration between the Cashmere showroom in Milan and designer Géraldine Alasio.

THE NEW CONTEMPORARY CHIC IS PLANET FRIENDLY

From outerwear to knitwear, from romantic dresses to shoes, contemporary taste is the common thread of some selected proposals seen at Super and TheOneMilano. Knitwear, outerwear, total looks and accessories focus on materials, details and sustainable contents

STREET BY OBLIQUE @ THEONEMILANO
Following the success of Oblique, the Bologna-based company, Oblique Creations Srl, unveiled a new collection, Street by Oblique. An easy wear label of 30 pieces, with an active wear edge. After opening a popup on via Manzoni, Milan, Oblique Creations is planning a monobrand store in this same city.

IINDACO @ SUPER
Domitilla Rapisardi and Pamela Costantini have targeted an area of a luxury design centred around circular economy: recycled and recyclable heels and insoles, biodegradable linings and leather derived from the food chain.

ZYNE @ SUPER
Born in Casablanca, Zineb Britel together with her friend Laura Pujol founded a collection of handmade shoes hand crafted by local artisan women that imbues Moroccan traditions with contemporary fashion trends.

DAPHNE MILANO @ THEONEMILANO
Now in its third year, Daphne Milano revolves around the magic of the dress, in jersey for everyday moments, and in silks printed with floral designs, silk velvets, brocades and lace for someone special.

AFTERLABEL @ SUPER
From next winter's collection, the emerging designer Alberto Premi will be at the helm of Afterlabel: a brand with a concept rooted in high-performance outerwear, combining technical materials and quality details.

